KELS STICKS TO PLEA OF GUILTY

Paint Company Is Ordered To Move Plant

ABATEMENT SUIT WILL BE FILED IF ACTION IS HELD UP 30 DAYS

The many complaints received about the damage that was being done by the operation of the Synthetic Paint company, resulted last night in the council passing an order instructing the city attorney to bring any action to abate the nuisance.

The matter came up again last evening by the presenting of a petition signed by 70 residents, asking that no action be taken against the paint factory and urging that industries should be encouraged.

This started the ball rolling and nearly every one in the council chamber took part in the discussion that followed. Practically every speaker was of the same opinion, that it would be impossible to do away with the smoke and dust nuisance, by the use of suction fans and smoke bags.

Mrs. Ogborn said she had visited the neighborhood, and she knew she would not want to reside there. The dust was everywhere, it seeped into houses, ruined clothes and injured the health of the residents.

Councilman Hartnett said this investigation had convinced him that the operation of the factory was a nuisance and should be stopped.

Mayor Scott said he had visited the factory in company with the city manager and city attorney and he did not think it would be possible for changes to be made that would meet with the approval of the property owners of that district.

Councilman Carey thought that snap action should not be taken but that the owner of the factory should be given an opportunity to secure another location.

Talks were also made by the following residents of the neighborhood, Mrs. Agnes Squires, Wilfred Cook, D. McCurdy, Mrs. H. W. Barnes, and D. Rosetti.

On motion of Councilman Lane it was decided that the place should be abated and suits will be brought any time within the next thirty days unless the factory has been removed before.

Balances Shown By Auditor's Report

The monthly report of the city auditor, filed with the council last night showed balances in the different funds as follows: general $23,607.71, library $1,191.79, compensation $19,561.78, school $9,500.89, memorial building $26,047.05, tax sale redemption $2,956.97, harbor improvement $85,894.64, park and playground $10,555.

The city tax collector's report for September showed collections of $5,088.55.

Lack Funds For New Dock at Wharf

For the present nothing will be done by the council in the way of providing another dock at the municipal wharf.

City Engineer Chapman filed an estimate of the cost of the proposed structure and it amounts to $496,000. This would provide for reinforced concrete piling and concrete superstructure.

City Manager McVittie informed the council that there was no money available this year for construction purposes.

Adopt Plans To Improve Nicholl Park At Once

Plans for the improvement of Nicholl park were adopted by the council at its meeting last evening. There is the sum of $8,000 that has been set aside for its improvement, and the first work will be the planting of shrubbery about the outer boundary.

Dr. Carol Aronivici showed colored drawings illustrating the general layout of the new park. It will possibly take a number of years before the entire scheme is carried out.

Entering the park from Macdonald avenue one comes to what is termed the "great lawn" with smaller lawns on either side. Then there are play areas for girls and play areas for boys, tennis courts, hand ball courts, basketball courts, a swimming pool, and at the south end is located the baseball field and the football field and cinder path.

John A. Miller, chairman of the park and playground commission was present and made suggestions as to changes that he considered necessary.

Plans for the beautification of Grand Canyon park was presented but as the hour was very late no action was taken on them. The council will consider them at its next meeting.

DREDGER WILL ARRIVE TODAY

The big dredger that will be used in the harbor improvement work, is now on its way from Sacramento, and Harbor Master J. H. Misner expects that it will arrive today.

This machine will be used in connection with the third harbor contract that was recently awarded by the federal government.

Given Temporary Permit For Shop

The Heinsen burner company was given a temporary permit to occupy a building on Espee avenue for factory purposes. The permit will not run for a longer period than six months. Before that time elapses the planning commission will decide whether this section is to be designated as a light industry zone or not.

Protest Condition Of Villa Paving

Strong protest was made to the council last night by the owners of property in the San Pablo Villa tract regarding the condition of the pavement in that section. The protest was signed by twenty-six residents, and stated that the pavement was cracking and that if the work was done according to the specifications that they must have been very loosely drawn. Complaint was also made that the drainage of the streets was bad.

The owners stated that they objected to being compelled to pay for the work until it was placed in proper shape.

An investigation will be made this week by the street committee, the city manager and the city engineer.

Grim Reaper Loses In Race With Stork

The Grim Reaper ran a poor race with the Stork in Richmond during the month of September, according to figures released yesterday by Dr. C. R. Blake, city health officer, who reported that there were 32 births and 10 deaths during the month. Of the births 18 were boys, and 14 were girls.

Still And Wine Seized In Raid

A still and 600 gallons of wine were seized here last night by local officers in a raid on the home of Amerio Nivolo, 412 Chancellor. Nivolo is being held on charges of violation of the prohibition laws.

The raid came entirely unexpected to Nivolo who was taken into custody before he had time to dispose of the evidence. The liquor and still were taken to the police station sealed and locked up to be used as evidence.

Bail has been set at $500 cash, or $1,000 bond, which Nivolo has so far been unable to furnish.

Council Purchases Part Site Property

Actual purchase of the third city park, which is bounded by Twelfth, Thirteenth and Bissell, was made by the council last evening. The park will consist of 21 lots and of this number nine will have to be condemned. The city attorney was instructed to bring the necessary suits.

Ordinance Calling Bond Election Up For First Reading

First reading of the ordinance calling the special election for the adoption of the new charter, and the voting of $150,000 bonds for a city hospital and $50,000 for a public bathhouse, was given at the meeting of the council last evening. The bonds will run for a period of 40 years and will bear interest at the rate of 6 percent. Final passage of the ordinance will be made next Monday night.

Councilman John N. Hartnett stated to the council, that before the call for the election was made that it should be determined where the hospital is to be located, or there would be a general mixup over the matter. He stated he was opposed to the city purchasing any additional land at this time and thought that land now owned by the municipality should be used for the purpose. He was opposed to voting money for a hospital, and then taking any part of it for the buying of land.

A letter was read from John Nicholl company, by W. D. Nicholl, secretary, in which the company renewed its offer of donating a site on the west side for the bathhouse. Mr. Nicholl said he thought the city should have such an institution and his company was willing to assist in every way possible. He extended his best wishes to the city and expressed the desire that the people would turn out and vote for the bonds.

Request Aid For Survey of Project

The recommendation of the Richmond Industrial commission that the city aid in the project of having a survey made of the possibilities of constructing a dam across San Pablo bay, was referred last evening by the council to the city manager and the city attorney.

POLICE CONTINUE SEARCH FOR FOUR OAKLAND BANDITS WHO ROB BANK

Vigilant watch of all roads, trains and ferries leaving the eastbay cities was maintained all yesterday afternoon and last night by police in the various cities in an effort to apprehend the bandits, believed to be four in number, that staged a daring daylight holdup of the West Oakland branch of the Oakland bank yesterday noon netting about $14,000.

Richmond police carefully watched all roads leading out of town and guarded the ferries to keep any suspicious characters from slipping by them. Up to a late hour this morning no trace had been found of the bandits.

The robbery was staged during the noon hour at the West Oakland branch of the Oakland bank yesterday noon netting about $14,000. Only four men were on duty. Three of the gang entered the bank while no patrons were present and forced W. J. Schneider, clerk, to lie down. Covering the three other men, F. A. Allard, manager, R. F. Garnett, teller, and L. A. Mozlich, clerk, the ready cash and currency was quickly seized and the three men escaped, believed to have been aided by a fourth man waiting in an automobile. The search for the four men is continuing today.

Park Bonds Are Sold For $40,000

Six bids were received by the council last evening for the purchase of $40,000 of park and playgrounds, and the bonds were sold to the Anglo, London and Paris company of San Francisco, for par and a premium of $486, that being the highest offer.

The other bids received were par, and the amount of premium bid was as follows: R. H. Moulton company, $433; Mercantile Securities company, $420; Merchants Bank, $364; Weedon & Company, $358; and Schwabacher & Company, $332.

The money realized from the sale will be used for the acquisition of land to be used for park purposes.

Deny Request For Leave of Absence

On the recommendation of Fire Chief Roy Lemoin, the council last evening denied the request of Fireman George F. Imbach for a leave of absence for one year.

Councilman Scholes stated that Imbach had spoken to him about the matter, stating that he wished to take up a route of a coffee company and try it for twelve months and not lose his seniority.

It seemed to the members of the council that a leave of absence of either 30 to 60 days was proper, but a year was too long.

Appointments to permanent positions in the fire department were made on the recommendation of the fire chief as follows: F. F. Light, as a line man, W. H. Snelling as signal operator, J. L. Clausen as mechanic, and E. D. Cochran as hose man. All of the men have been working in the department on the day basis, with the exception of Cochran, and this additional fireman was provided for in the budget.

Birth Rate In U. S. Is Lower Than Last Year

WASHINGTON (D. C.), Oct. 8.—The department of commerce announces that provisional birth figures for the first three months of 1923 indicate slightly lower birth rates than for the corresponding three months of 1922. For the states compared the birth rate for the first three months was 22.4 in 1923 against 23.6 in 1922. The highest birth rate for the three months is shown for North Carolina (27.6) and the lowest for Vermont (15.8).

JACKSON MAY BE GIVEN FREEDOM

Robert Jackson, self confessed slayer of Theodore Lockhart, may be given his freedom. This is according to advice reaching here from Orville where Jackson is on trial. Mrs. Capitola Sollars, who has been visiting her son Harry Sollars, in this city, and who was the object of matrimonial advances on the part of Lockhart, was one of the witnesses called at Jackson's hearing before the Butte county probate board. Jackson had pleaded guilty in the superior court to a charge of manslaughter and asked for probation. Mrs. Sollars told of her former affection for Lockhart, who was shot by Jackson after a quarrel. She stated that she had not cared for Lockhart since he had paid a visit to her while she was staying with her son in Richmond last May, and Lockhart went to the movies with the family and forgot to buy tickets for the crowd.

Harry Sollars was called to the stand as a character witness for Jackson.

Jackson, who is an orphan, formerly lived in Oakland.

During the session of the council last evening E. Forwick, well known business man, asked the council the question, "What are the boys of Richmond going to do at night; what can be done for their entertainment and pleasure?"

Total of $2,100 Is Collected in Fines

Fines aggregating $2,100 were paid into the Martinez city treasury yesterday by seven victims of liquor raids staged Saturday evening by City Marshal Charles almer.

The seven persons taken into custody or cited were fined $300 each by Recorder R. L. Boyer. They were Chris Donahue, A. Williams, Jim Hannon and Percy Kleiber, all arrested in Perry street establishments; Mrs. A. Della Rosa of the Marconi hotel; Bert Rumsey, Shotgun restaurant; and Mike Pistochini of the Italian hotel.

Nine places were raided by Palmer and assistants from the V. D. Carl detective agency but in two no arrests were made. Officers claim to have found small amounts of liquor in seven places.

Persons arrested were allowed their liberty Saturday night on depositing bail of $300 each with Frank Glass, acting recorder.

Evidence against the men arrested, it is claimed, has been gathered during the past two weeks by operatives of the aCril agency.

Saturday night's coup, staged about 6 o'clock, has resulted in $2,600 in fines being paid into the city's coffers in the last two weeks in liquor cases.

EXPECTS DEATH PENALTY TO BE IMPOSED; SANITY IS DETERMINED

STOCKTON, Oct. 8.—Alex Kels today refused to change his plea of guilty when brought before Superior Judge D. M. Young for hearing. His action is said to leave no course open to the judge except to pronounce the death penalty provided for murder in the first degree.

Sentence will not pronounced until Wednesday.

When Kels was brought into court today he was asked if he desired to employ counsel or to change his plea. "I do not," he replied.

The hearing today was called primarily to determine the degree of the murder to which Kels confessed and to determine his mental status. Just attorneys stated that they believed his answers to questions indicated his sanity.

An insanity commission will not be appointed "unless something new turns up," Judge Young said.

Place Needed For Boys' Amusement Declares Forwick

Forwick said his boys had asked him the same question and he was unable to answer it. He said boys under 21 could not visit poolrooms and play, and only last Sunday he knew of young men who had been refused admittance to a pool hall, who went to San Pablo, filled up on "Dago red" and then raised a rough house. Forwick further said that the chief of police had refused to issue a special permit for boys.

Councilman Lane said the age limit was a state law and neither the chief of police nor the council could go contrary to its provisions. Mayor Scott said it was true that there was not much amusement provided for the young people in Richmond but that the council was calling an election to vote bonds for a public bathhouse, and this would be one means of taking care of the young. Scott said every citizen should bet out and work for the bonds.

Forwick agreed with the mayor and said he would be pleased to do everything possible to see that the bonds carried.

Says Housing Law Is Complied With

City Manager J. A. McVittie filed a report with the council last evening in regard to complaints that had been made about the occupancy of a house at 100 Ohio street, which it was claimed was being occupied in violation of the state housing act.

The report of the city manager showed that two trips of inspection had been made by the sanitary inspector and a member of the police department. The place was found to be in a sanitary condition and there were no more sleeping in a room than is permitted under the law.

IS THAT EVERY TIME

YOU GO any place

WHERE THERE is a kid,

THE PARENTS expect

THAT YOU'LL make a fuss

AND PICK them up

AND TELL the folks

YOU NEVER have seen

IN ALL your life

SUCH A bright boy

AND I like it

ITS A little embarrassing

LIKE YESTERDAY afternoon

I HAD some business

UP AT Prater's Studio

AND A lady I know

CAME IN with a baby

TO HAVE pictures made

AND MR. Prater

ARRANGED HIS camera

AND POSED the baby

AND THEN went over

AND COVERED his head

WITH THE big black cloth

AND EVERY time

HE'D COME out for air

THE BABY would scream

AND PRATER drafted me

INTO THE service

AND I was given

A MONKEY on a string

AND I was supposed

TO ENTERTAIN the baby

AND GOT up on a chair

AND CROWED like a rooster

AND FLOPPED my wings

Thrilling Fire Scene In Film At The Macdonald

Burned, and with hair singed, and clothes in shreds, Charles Jones finally emerged from a burning trestle bridge pulling a battered and flame-scarred racing car behind him. The flames still roared about him, yet he seemed unconcerned.

This was the third time this scene was attempted by the William Fox company on location for scenes in "Skid Proof." The action was to take Jones across a burning trestle bridge, during his attempt to win the cup given to the winner of the Transcontinental Auto race.

Twice before cameramen were stationed around the bridge, oil was poured and the action started. Twice the flames got beyond control, obscured the action, swept the actors and ruined the film. The director, Scott Dunlap, was beginning to despair. The third attempt was successful, however, but the star's accumulation of burns from the three efforts rendered him faint. He was taken to a local hospital, where his burns were administered to. He left the hospital three days later, and resumed work on the picture.

Boy Wounded In Shooting Affray

John Cacciglieri, 14 year old crippled boy of Vine Hill, is being held by the juvenile authorities today while John Kirk, also 14, is at the Martinez hospital, the victim of an unfortunate shooting affray growing out of a boys' battle in the vine hill district Sunday.

Young Kirk's legs and feet were badly perforated by bird shot fired from a gun obtained by Cacciglieri, according to his admission to Deputy Sheriff J. M. Josephs.

Kirk, Cacciglieri and other boys of their age, according to stories related to Josephs, were staging an orchard battle with apples. Kirk, it seems, threw an apple which struck Cacciglieri in the back of the head. Maddened the boy ran to the home of Julius Bagley, a short distance away, obtained a shotgun which he poked through a hole in a screen about the porch, and fired. When Kirk fell Cacciglieri ran more than a mile to his home and hid on a hay barn where he was found by Josephs who had been summoned by parents of some of the children. Young Kirk was removed to the hospital. He is the son of Mrs. Edith Kirk, a widow.

It had not been decided today what disposition would be made of the case. It was said today that the injuries suffered by Kirk will have no ill results.

Trilby Will Show At T. and D. Again Today

Were not Andree Lafayette, the featured player in Richard Walton Tully's all star production of George Du Maurier's immortal novel, "Trilby," a First National attraction which is at the Richmond T. and D. theater today, the possessor of a very sweet disposition; she would have suffered great annoyance during the filming of that production because of the unusual interest recently developed by the public in her symmetrical feet.

She has been waylaid on every side with requests for photographs of her feet and some of the more venturesome have even asked her to remove her shoes and stockings that they might gaze upon her highly publicized "trilbies." These, coming principally from the curious around the studio, did not exactly surprise the fair Mademoiselle, but she was driven almost to distraction by a bombardment of more urgent and more persistent requests for endorsements of all sorts of shoes, foot lotions, powders, corn pads and eradicators—in fact, every sort of merchandise which might, by any stretch of the imagination be connected or associated with feet.

The amiable Frenchwoman has been greatly amused by mistaken notions concerning the size of her feet. They are not small; nor were Trilby's feet small. Say Mademoiselle Lafayette, "Trilby had never worn shoes, hence her feet were beautiful, but they were not diminutive, as many suppose. Rather were they of goodly proportions and well proportioned."

RICHMOND MEETS FREMONT TODAY

130 POUND TEAM TO CLASH WITH OAKLAND ELEVEN

Richmond high school's 130-pound team will clash with the Fremont high 130-pounders this afternoon on Nicholl Field, giving the local lightweights a chance to try their mettle against the little brothers of the Oakland high school teams, beaten by the varsity with but little difficulty.

The Red and Blue 130-pounders have had two victories and no defeats to their credit and are confident that tonight it will be three straight victories. Coach Heady is ready to send in his strongest lineup to test out the Fremont players and will give the other men a chance if Fremont proves an easy victim.

Harold Seigal, captain, will lead the backfield as quarterback, and will be supported by Bunny Muth, and Hutton, halfbacks, and Hutton fullback.

Villawos and Dalton will start at ends and Coakley and Fraser will hold down the guard positions with Hutchison and Butcher at tackle. Gerhart will play center, and Cassidy, Axelson, Mino, Abbey, Childs, Carey, Conner, Arnold, Murray, Coeuris and Clark will be ready to relieve them at any minute.

No doubt is felt in the Richmond camp that the lightweight men will succeed in separating the Fremont 130-pound men from their scalps.

C. D. Horner, local attorney, will officiate at the game and will act both as referee and umpire.

Sacramento Fans Proud of Showing

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 8.—Although the Sacramento Senators lost all chance for the pennant this year when they dropped the series to the Seals in San Francisco last week, fans are not at all downhearted over the achievements for the season and are making bright forecasts for next year's prospects.

Followers of the game with mathematical leanings point to the outstanding fact that Sacramento lead the league throughout the season in fielding average and are free to predict that with the addition of a little more swatting ability by way of trades or purchases Sacramento will soon be waving a pennant over her club house.

Another feature that is causing smiles to appear on Senatorial faces is the consistency with which Sacramento progressed through the season. After the first drop she came right up the ladder and has been the only club seriously contesting the flag with San Francisco.

With the same quality of fielding and a strengthened batting lineup Sacramento is conceded a better than average chance at the next rag, barring, of course, that well known person, Colonel Bad Breaks.

Fisherman Fails To Recognize Judge; Mistake Costs Him Fine of $25

PITTSBURG, Oct. 8.—Shorn of his judicial robes and garbed in the attire of a fisherman, Judge W. W. Moore apparently is not easy of recognition as the magistrate who presides over the two local courts. At least E. Canton did not recognize him as such and his informal meeting of the magistrate on the riverbank early one Sunday morning cost Canton exactly $30 in cash and no little anxiety.

If there is one thing Judge Moore likes to do better than say "so many dollars and so many days," it's fish, and while on such an expedition early one Sunday morning a few weeks ago he encountered Canton. The Judge, his brother, Robert Moore, and A. Huff, were seated on the bank of the river near the dairy fishing when Canton came up.

"You fellows have got my place. I always fish here," was his greeting. "This is my place and I'm going to have it." With that Canton tossed his line across that of Judge Moore and pulled it ashore. Words followed and Canton is said to have spouted impudence.

He was questioned about his fishing license and his answers aroused suspicion, which resulted in his arrest. It was found that after the incident Canton, although an alien, had bought a citizen's fishing license for $1. Judge Matt Ward of Antioch heard the case for Judge Moore in the local court Monday. He fined Canton $30 for fishing without a license and instructed that his citizen's fishing license be taken from him and the $1 returned. An alien's permit to fish costs $25 which Canton must pay if he wishes to return to his old fishing grounds.

RICHMOND STARS DEFEAT OAKLAND PIERCE GIANTS

Richmond All Stars upheld their reputation yesterday when they defeated the Pierce Giants, colored champions, on the Richmond diamond, rolling up five runs in the first stanza that gave them an advantage jealously protected throughout the remaining stanzas and winning the game by the score of 6 to 1.

Pierce, manager for the colored wildcats, sent Johnson in to start the game, and he certainly started it, filling the bases, and then allowing Stangard a neat little present in the shape of a home run over the left field fence. Following that outburst he allowed Fitzgerald to cavort around the three bases and steal home under a barrage laid down by Peppin.

Pierce evidently thought this was enough of a lead for even the Giants to give a team and sent in Morris to turn the tide. Morris failed, however, to do more than stop it. He only let one more runner across the white rubber, but in return his team mates were held to the same score, falling down several times with two or three men on the bases.

Cochran and Freine performed on the mound for the All Stars, both giving a very creditable account of their hurling ability. Cochran held away for the first five innings, allowing four hits and one run. Freine did even better, allowing only two

American Seaplane Wins Big Race

The International seaplane race for the Schneider trophy was won by the United States entry, Lieut. David Rittenhouse, pictured above piloted the American seaplane which covered the course in one hour, 12 minutes, 26 4-5 seconds, or 177.38 miles an hour.

The Giants are not satisfied that the All Stars have them outclassed, however, and will meet October 28 for another contest.

It has been suggested in some quarters that if the Giants play the same grade of ball they did yesterday they will win, necessitating a third

Train For S. F. Cross City Race

Training for long distance runs has been started by four Richmond youths, Robert Clinch, Robert Schach, Elmer Hansen and Francis Healey, who plan to enter the S. F. Bulletin Cross City race on New Years' day. Each night following work, the athletes take a long run in preparation for the eight mile grind which they will enter.

James Wright Gets Limit on Duck Hunt

Duck hunting continues to be one of the most popular sports of local hunters who are returning with the limit. Among those who were out Sunday was James Wright, who returned from Colusa with the limit.

game, but 6 to 1 looks like pretty good ball for the locals and if both teams play the same game, another game does not seem to be an assured fact, that is, if 5 runs is still considered enough of a lead to win a ball game.

Arrange For Game With Alhambra Hi

Announcement was made yesterday by Coach Ivan Hill that final arrangements have been made for a game between the Alhambra High school eleven of Martinez and the Richmond varsity to be played at Nicholl Field the morning of November 3.

This arrangement comes as the culmination of a long controversy between the schools, both being anxious to meet the other but an open date being hard to find. The final setting of the date proves highly acceptable to Richmond fans who are anxious to see the team in action against the lads from up the coast.

Another game scheduled for the near future that is creating considerable interest is to be played on Nicholl Field October 20 between the local varsity and the Berkeley school for the deaf. The Berkeley school has been putting out some very good teams and should give some real competition.

Local Boy Makes Stanford Eleven

Fred Swan, son of Fred L. Swan, of Richmond, is considered one of the strongest tackles on the Stanford University Freshman team this year. It has been learned here, Swan is an athlete of considerable repute, having played with the state championship Berkeley high eleven of two years ago, and last year was on the Olympic Club team.

Richmond Colts Lose To Risdon Bakery

The Risdon Bakery nine of Oakland scored a 6 to 4 victory over the Richmond Colts in a contest played Sunday. The former outfit will be in the Class A league, while the locals are in Class B.

Poor support given Art Muth, pitcher for the locals, was given as the reason for the loss of the Colts. Honors were about equal until the seventh inning when errors on the part of the locals gave the Bakery nine its opportunity to put over the winning runs.

The lineup for the Colts Sunday was as follows: Art Muth, p; Don O'Loan, c; Pete Moore, 1b; Snowden, 2b; Schrader, ss; Joseph, 3b; Dudley, rf; John O'Rourke, cf; and Nemeth, lf.

Something to Remember Real Good Gravy

Don't forget that the secret of making real, good gravy is KITCHEN BOUQUET. Purely a vegetable product, it makes real, good gravy of any gravy stock, bringing out its full flavor and giving it a deep, rich brown color.

Add a tablespoonful just before taking off the stove.

Don't forget KITCHEN BOUQUET, use it often —probably you have it in your pantry, if not, ask your grocer for it.

approaching, horseman, was in plain view, and, even at that distance, the girl had no doubt as to his identity. Her very heart seemed to cease beating as she knelt, anxiously watching his approach, the horse loping steadily, the man swaying gently to the movement of the animal. Who, indeed, was he—this Daniel Kellen? This "Frisco Kid"? Was he a real man in whom she could trust and believe? In whose honor she could confide?

Or was he what these ruffians so confidently proclaimed—an outlaw, a desperado of the frontier, an escaped felon, hiding from justice, and even now engaged in the commission of crime? These fellows took it for granted that he was present on the same criminal mission as themselves; he had deliberately left her, and rode away seeking traces of Casebeer's gang in the valley—seemingly there was no escape from the one conclusion, that he was part of the conspiracy. He had lied to her, deceived her, told her a fairy tale, laughing at her credulity, while coldly going forward with his own plans.

Deborah grasped all this almost instantly, unable to perceive any possibility of escape from the net. Her limbs trembled, yet she could only kneel there in silence, watching the approach of the rider. A wild hope thrilled into her heart, that perhaps this man was not all bad; that whatever his real life might be, he may have meant to be square with her, and would yet protect her. Surely he never had revealed her presence to these others; perhaps that was why he had not returned with them, hoping she might see the strangers, and hide. His first words sent a thrill through her heart—he was playing a part for her protection.

He reined in his mount sharply, glancing keenly about, but with face expressionless as his eyes finally encountered the two waiting him.

"Whose horse is that?" he asked inquiringly, indicating the grazing animal.

"I know not that, senior; 'tis Meager's brand."

"I can see that for myself, but it was not here when I came by. Was anyone besides you two sent in here on this business?"

"No, senior," there was a touch of deference in Sanchez's voice most unusual, Deborah was quick to note and appreciate. "Only the two of us. Yet it might be, for we knew not even that you were to come also."

"That was an after-thought, and why I rode so hard and straight. I knew about you, didn't I?"

"Si, senior, no doubt," Kellen swung one leg carelessly over the pommel of his saddle, and deliberately rolled and lit a cigarette. His face expressed no emotion, no particular interest, yet Deborah was certain the keen, searching eyes had swept swiftly over her covert, and up the steep front of the overhanging cliff. He suspected where she was hidden, and was endeavoring to protect her from discovery; but who was he really playing fair with? Was he trying to deceive both? or merely playing a desperate game in which a single slip would mean disaster? Was he outlaw or honest man? Nothing in the situation, or in the conversation, thus far overheard, gave her certainty. She dare not move, scarcely venture to breathe, as she watched the three men below.

"When is this Casebeer gang expected?" Kellen questioned.

"Tonight, senior; it was to be earlier, but they not come. Now not until tonight; they never cross the desert by day."

"No, I reckon not; it would be too risky. Any trouble here lately?"

"Non, non, senior; not of late trouble. It was all fixed. The Senior Meager he know who best to see. They come—yes; last week a man come, an' question, but he ride away, an' know nothing. A troop come, soldiers from the fort, an' stay two, three day. I talk with officer; he drink with Bob; then they go back to Nogales. It be all right sure then—see? We know they not be back soon as this week. So we send word for Casebeer."

"Yes, I see; but it is not so sure after all. Perhaps they do come back."

The Mexican shook his head positively.

"No, senior, we know. We have watch always. Senior Meager very slick bird when not drunk. You at the ranch last night?"

"Certainly, you saw me there, why?"

"You not there alone, senior. The judge come also from Nogales. He brought the word. 'Twas for that he came, not to marry Meager. That all came later, by what you call luck.'"

"Where does this northern gang come from?"

on this morning by daylight—and why not? They'd be under rock cover all the last part of the way. It's beyond here that they'd have the open desert to cross. Let's ride down there and wait. Saddle up, both of you; there is just as good camping ground down below."

Within five minutes the three were trotting soberly down the valley. Not one of them glanced back, and Deborah lifting her head higher and higher to peer after them through the brush screen, watched until they disappeared entirely about the sharp protuberance of rock, which marked the end of the vista. Kellen had done this purposefully; his conversation with these men had been largely carried on for her benefit and guidance. He knew where she was; that she could easily overhear. Through these means he endeavored to convey to her unsuspecting the complete situation in which he was involved, and then, this accomplished, he had inveigled the two unsuspecting Mexicans away, thus giving her opportunity to escape unseen.

Deborah was not yet wholly convinced of the man's innocence. In spite of his evident intention of shielding her from discovery, his intimate association with Bob Meager, the understanding between him and Sanchez, was seemingly proof positive that he was an important link in this conspiracy. The man was endeavoring to make her think otherwise, but the doubt of him lingered in her mind. In the night she had begun to trust, to believe; the fellow's very recklessness and good humor had been attractive; her vague suspicion seemed to vanish in his presence. But now this doubt returned with redoubled vigor, and, for the moment, she actually feared him as much as the man she had tried to kill. More, perhaps, for Meager was only a rough, passionate brute, while the very nature of Kellen rendered him a far more dangerous adversary. If he also was interested in her—and the girl felt that he was—she was in greater danger now than on the ranch from which she had fled. She shrank from the thought, yet it haunted her, and would not be driven away. Where could she go? What could she do to escape the man's return? Suicidal, impossible as it appeared, she must find some means of leaving that fatal valley before he came back again alone seeking her.

The girl drew back slowly, with eyes searching the open valley, intent first of all on reaching the horse grazing below. The only possible way was the one she had taken in climbing there, along a ledge of stone close in against the rock wall. The whole face of the cliff was a mass of trailing vines, clinging in some mysterious way to imperceptible crevices in the rock, completely veiling its front far up above her reach. Deborah pressed these back to gain passage, and had advanced a dozen steps or more, when she stopped, paralyzed with fear, staring into two terrifying eyes. She could not move a limb, or scream in that first instant of horror. Then a hand reached out, swept the concealing vines aside, and gripped her.

CHAPTER X

Within the Tunnel.

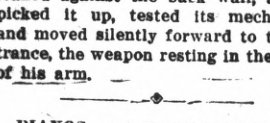

Deborah struggled to break away, emitting one startled cry for help, before the fingers of her assailant closed viselike on her throat. She was in the grasp of a giant, merciless in the exercise of his power, and felt herself dragged helplessly through the tangle of vines into blackness beyond. It was a man; she knew that, although she had no glimpse of the face, and made desperate effort at release, given unusual strength by terror; but the grip on her throat tightened remorselessly, and her power of resistance waned, until she suddenly lost consciousness and all sense of her surroundings. Her body lay limp in the fellow's arms, and with a growl of satisfaction, he bore the motionless, seemingly lifeless body back through the deepening shadows, and cast it down on the stone floor. The man stood above the huddled figure of the girl, hardly defined, shapeless in the gloom, and laughed silently. He bent down and touched her, only to straighten up once more, convinced she was not dead. A rifle leaned against the back wall, and he picked it up, tested its mechanism, and moved silently forward to the entrance, the weapon resting in the crook of his arm.

Shriners Plan For Big Banquet Ceremonial

Further details for the big ceremonial and initiation to be held here Saturday by the Shriners were worked out last night at a meeting of the ladies reception committee and the general committee. Between three and four hundred ladies are expected to be guests here and a reception is planned at the Elks club rooms, preceding the theater party at the T. and D. Theater.

One of the features of the parade which will be held Saturday afternoon is to be the famous "Bucking Ford" which will be imported for the occasion. Candidates for admission to the order will be chosen to ride in the car, and are promised an interesting if not highly enlightening ride.

Plans are made to seat 750 at the banquet.

ENTERTAINS FRIENDS

Miss Afa Crigler, 1116 Clinton avenue, entertained a group of her friends at a theater party which was followed by an enchilada feed at her home Friday evening.

The guests included Clyde Parker, Wallace Woods, Jennie Williamson, Hazel Vickery, Lillian Mills, George Miner, Oscar Carlson, Oliver Crigler, Charles Moss, Ralph Cunningham, Gordon Higgins, Meril Damsel, Bert Bussow, Elsie Crigler, Ava Crigler, Lawrence Griffin and Richard Crigler. The chaplains were Mrs. Minor, Clyde Parker and Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Crigler.

Restaurant Owner Is Fined $500

James Barney, Martinez restaurant owner, convicted last week of driving an automobile while intoxicated, was fined $500 yesterday by Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie and was given the alternative of spending one day in jail for each $3 of the fine. He was allowed until this morning to secure money to satisfy on the fine.

INITIATE CANDIDATES

Beacon Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, initiated three candidates Saturday at the Masonic hall. After the initiation, refreshments were served in the banquet hall.

Clara, Salding presided, assisted by Worthy Patron Joseph J. Burdon. Mrs. Elizabeth Burdon had charge of the refreshments. District Deputy Hazel Dell Adamsan, grand matron of Oakland, was present.

Mrs. Ruby Bryant, 666 Thirty-ninth street, will entertain the sewing club at her home Thursday afternoon. Grand Chapter 50th annual convention will hold a golden jubilee in San Francisco October 16, 17, 18 and 19, with headquarters at Hotel Whitcomb. Delegates from four hundred chapters of California will attend and the convention is expected to be an elaborate affair.

GIVES BARN DANCE

Justice Wymann entertained at a barn dance at his country home Saturday evening. Couples from Oakland, Berkeley and Richmond were present.

Halloween decorations were used and the barn was artistically strung with lanterns. Stacks of hay rimmed with orange and black streamers were in the corners and the center of the floor was cleared for dancing. The guests were garbed in hard time costumes and some of the clothes caused much merriment for all those present.

Dancing was the main order of the evening and a delicious lunch was served at a late hour.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR LATE MRS. EMMA HOWARD

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon from the Wilson and Kratzer chapel for the late Mrs. Emma Howard, who died at her home, 2175 Gaynor avenue last Saturday. Rev. Frank Woten, of the First Christian church officiated. Burial was made at the Sunset view cemetery.

Lodge Will Give Hallowe'en Dance

Richmond Lodge No. 217, Fraternal Brotherhood, met last night at Redmen's hall for a business meeting and initiation, several candidates being received into the order. Luther Cary, Henrietta Macchals, Nellie Miller, M. R. Erickson and E. L. Brown were appointed as a committee to make arrangements for a Hallowe'en party and dance to be held October 29.

A ham whist party will be given by the lodge next Monday evening. A report was received from the committee on the Harding Memorial hospital and the lodge decided to back the city council and other organizations in their campaign for the hospital.

Following the initiation a chicken dinner was served for both new and old members.

HELP TO KEEP CHILDREN OFF RAILROAD TRACKS

Little Johnny, Henry or Willie may save himself a lecture from his father, or possibly a trip to the washboard by not playing around railroad tracks. For the assistance of fathers, and mothers in preventing children endangering their lives by playing in or around railroad cars and tracks is being sought by the Southern Pacific Company.

This was shown recently in instructions issued by J. H. Dyer, general manager of the Southern Pacific, urging that all officials and employees make every effort to keep children away from moving trains and cars.

In cases where children do not heed the warnings given them by the trainmen or other representatives of the company, the parents are to be informed of the situation and the great danger of injury to the children explained to them.

"Children do not appreciate the great danger they are in when playing around railroad tracks," Mr. Dyer stated. "For this reason we should spare no effort to guard them as nothing is more regrettable than accidents to little children."

Special Music Is Planned By Wesley M.E. Church Choir

The Wesley Methodist church choir under J. E. Hill, together with the excellent orchestra Hill has formed and directs, has been furnishing some fine music at the Sunday evening church services. The large choir loft is now fully occupied by choir and orchestra. The cello number, "Berceuse," by Hobbs, assisted by the orchestra was greatly enjoyed by the large congregation Sunday night as well as the two fine numbers by the orchestra.

Next Sunday night will be another treat, but in the novel form of a story and song. A most interesting story of "Charlie Coulson" who was a drummer boy at the battle of Gettysburg and mortally wounded, has been written by Dr. M. L. Rossvally. It has been made into a service of sacred song by John Burnham. Mrs. Martha Fraser Geyer will read the story parts and the choir and orchestra will furnish the fine music numbers in solos, duets, quartets and chorus. It promises to be a most interesting service.

RICHMOND CLUB MEETS

Richmond Club held its regular business meeting yesterday afternoon. Mrs. D. J. Hall gave an account of the convention of the Municipal League at Coronado. Two delegates were elected to go to the county convention at Danville Wednesday, October 10. Several club members will attend the meeting along with the two representatives.

Boy Scouts Seek To Raise $10,000

Meeting at Martinez the Contra Costa Boy Scout Council fixed $10,000 as the required amount for financing, Contra Costa Boy Scout work for the coming year and made necessary arrangements for conducting a campaign to raise this amount.

A three days' campaign, starting on October 29 and continuing through October 30 and 31, will be conducted in every community of the county and it is anticipated that the amount asked will be easily secured in the allotted time.

Captains for various district are to be named and the appointed captains are to name teams of four persons each as aides. Apportionments for the various communities will be announced in a few days.

Saturday night's meeting was attended by members of the council from all parts of the county, all of whom expressed enthusiasm and satisfaction in the progress of the Scout movement.

There are now nineteen full organized and functioning troops of Scouts and several more troops are in process of organization. Industrial concerns, which were largely responsible for launching the Scout executive, have pledged the same active co-operation this year as marked their work on the organization of the scout council.

W. O. W. will hold a series of benefit whist parties at the Woodman hall. The first will be held Monday, October 15. Score cards will be priced at fifty cents with season tickets at one dollar apiece.

The other parties will be held on November 19 and December 17. The prizes will be valuable and a large attendance is expected at all of the parties.

Many Attend Meet Of Veterans of Foreign Wars

The monthly banquet of the Alameda council, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held last night at Martin's Grill, was attended by 56 members of the order, representing posts in Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and Richmond. W. H. Jones, commander of Richmond Post No. 913, presided. The principal talk of the evening was given by Junior Vice Commander in Chief D. B. Schertle, of Oakland, who has just returned from the national encampment at Norfolk, Virginia. Schertle gave a concise report of the business transacted at the national meet. Other speakers were Department Commander C. S. Hogan, of Sacramento; Department Chief of Staff R. T. Tolson, of Alameda; and Department Claims Officer C. Usney of Alameda.

A report was given on the use of the funds set aside for Berkeley relief work, and it was shown that the money had been used to good advantage. The sum of $278 had been set aside for this purpose. A surplus of $40 is to be turned over to the state claims department. The next banquet of the organization will be held in Oakland on the third Monday of November under the auspices of Lieut. Ebert R. Lelure Post No. 999.

Legion Men Meet At Argonaut Hotel

American Legion men from Richmond and other points in Contra Costa county will meet at the Argonaut hotel, San Francisco, Tuesday, October 16, preceding the parade which will be staged as part of the American Legion national convention program. It was announced yesterday. One room at the hotel will be set aside as the county headquarters.

WEST SIDE IMPROVEMENT CLUB HOLDS MEET

Women's West Side Improvement club met yesterday afternoon at the Guild hall with Mrs. H. G. Stidham presiding. Regular business was attended to and Mrs. S. F. Ripley, president of the county federation, gave an interesting talk to the members.

Mrs. Amelia Eaton and Mrs. J. H. Coleman were appointed delegates to the Mount Diablo country club meeting Wednesday. Mrs. H. G. Stidham and Mrs. H. C. Eaton will also attend.

After the business was taken care of, refreshments were served and social time was enjoyed.

Former Sheriff Is Divorce Plaintiff

With a change of venue granted from Sutter county to the courts of Contra Costa, suit for divorce of grounds of desertion has been filed in the superior court by Fred Buzzell Noyes, former Sutter county sheriff, against Florence N. Noyes of Concord.

According to the complaint they were married in October, 1916 and separated on February 21, 1920. The suit was originally filed in the Sutter county courts on August 29.

Estate Executor Named Defendant

Owing to the death of one of the owners of the Kozzy Kove resort property near Richmond, a new abatement suit was instituted in the superior court here on Saturday by District Attorney A. B. Tinning under provisions of the Volstead act, naming among other defendants Henry A. Jansing, as executor of the last will and testament of Elizabeth A. Schenkel.

An abatement proceeding was instituted in the superior court several weeks ago by the district attorney against the Kozzy Kove resort and it was stated on Saturday that the suit just filed is to name the executor of the estate of Elizabeth Schenkel as a defendant.

INFORMAL HOUSE WARMING
Mr. and Mrs. George Tandy, 673 Thirteenth street, entertained at an informal house warming Saturday evening. Dancing and games were enjoyed and a delicious lunch was served late in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Tandy were presented with several beautiful gifts as remembrances of the occasion.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stoeckle, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lemos, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Theis, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lambrecht, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schrader, Mr. and Mrs. L. Tandy, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Armstrong, of Richmond. Those from out of town were Miss Simpson, Oakland; Miss Humphrey, Berkeley; Ray Humphrey, Berkeley; Melvin Vandepier, Berkeley; Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Bickford, Patterson; and Mr. and Mrs. George O'Leary, sister and brother in law of Mrs. Tandy, and Miss Edna Fagg, of Sacramento, who were week end guests at the Tandy home.

MORRISON TO TAKE POST GRADUATE COURSE

Alex Morrison former Richmond high school star athlete, expects to take a post graduate course this year. He is expected to make a valuable addition to the football team.

Council Postpones Action on Maine Ave. Paving Bids

Bids for putting in paving, sidewalks, curbs and gutters on Main avenue, were opened by the council last evening, and there was one offer, from L. L. Page, whose bid totalled $14,318.55. According to the city engineer the work would be paid for by the district assessment plan, and would amount to about $8 a front foot. After much discussion the bid was laid over for two weeks, so that it could be ascertained if the property owners in that section wished the work to proceed.

Many of the members of the council thought that the cost was too high for the lots in that section, and that to go ahead with the improvement would practically mean confiscation of the property.

Plan To Attend Oakland Meeting

Arrangements are being made by the local Wesley leaguers, for Richmond to be well represented at the Alameda County Epworth League Alliance rally and supper to be held at the Eighth avenue M. E. church, Oakland, at 6:30 on the evening of Tuesday, October 16.

The local executives are planning to take about thirty-five to this monthly supper, as a large group has already turned in their names to support the affair. The delegates will probably be taken to their destination in machines, which will be furnished by the elders of the league. Upon arrival at the Oakland church a delicious supper will be observed, at which music will be rendered by the church orchestra.

Following this part of the meeting the group will adjourn to the rally hall of the church, where songs and yells will feature the program. A short business meeting will conclude the evening, at which a U. S. navy speaker will have charge.

The Richmond group will probably leave the church Ninth and Nevins avenue, at 6 p. m. All leaguers and friends will be expected to be present at this event.

Yokohama, Torn by Quake and Wave, Will Be One Center of Relief Work Carried On by American Red Cross

The above scene may never be reproduced in stricken Japan, for it is a photograph of a quay in the once splendid harbor of Yokohama, now a shallow and muddy pond as the result of the earthquake's ravages. It is here that the upheaval of the earth's surface caused the greatest material damage. The city was virtually razed by the shocks and subsequent fire and the floor of the harbor raised so high that it is believed vessels of ocean tonnage will have difficulty entering the waters. The Japanese shown in the photograph and their fellow countrymen, normal, contented lives before the disturbances that reduced their homes to ruins and left them penniless without shelter and starving. In their distress they have turned to America, the world's most responsive nation in such a crisis, and the people of the United States have assumed the obligation with characteristic speed and generosity. The American Red Cross, designated by President Coolidge as the official channel through which sympathetic Americans might contribute to the devastated country across the Pacific, placed a minimum quota of $5,000,000 as its goal, but early in the campaign when more complete information began to filter out from Japan it became apparent that the country's need would be far greater than the amount set.

Judge John Barton Payne, national chairman of the Red Cross, and Secretary of Commerce Hoover, his associate on the executive committee of the organization, have issued a joint call to America, urging that efforts be not relaxed. They call attention to the fact that while property losses may have been over-emphasized in the earlier dispatches from the affected zones, the human suffering is so intense that it requires the utmost sympathy and material assistance. There are hundreds of thousands of homeless people, thousands of orphans, a great army of injured, and many thousands of sick. Reserve stocks of food and clothing have been wiped out, and in her distress Japan must look to America for immediate relief. The reward to Americans will be the gratification they must feel in having been responsible for the saving of thousands of human lives. Emphasis is placed on the use to which money contributed to the fund will be put. None of it will be utilized by the Red Cross in its general fund. Every cent will be considered "ear-marked" for Japan.
